Joe Gross Get tickets for Navy-ND

There have been rumors around that tickets are already sold out for this year's Navy-Notre Dame football game, to be played at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium at 7 p.m. on Nov. 1. Not true.

When asked about the sell-out talk. Naval Academy Director of Athletics Capt. J.O. Coppedge replied, "Sold out? Not quite I have several thousand tickets to sell before we're sold out."

Tickets are available for all Navy home games The Mids home schedule has Virginia on Sept. 12, Lehigh on Sept. 27, Dartmouth on Oct. 4, Pennsylvania on Oct. 18 and Delaware on Nov. 15.

For information on tickets to any of Navy's games, call 268-6060.

"I really want to help Baltimore fill up the stadium, but we can't do it everyone thinks the game is already a sell out," Coppedge said.

Annapolis High School graduate Elizabeth Smith is on the women's field hockey team roster at Towson State University. The freshman is a goal goalkeeper.

When Virginia comes to Annapolis to open Navy's football season on Sept. 13, it will be something of a homecoming for Cavalier defensive lineman Kelly Caulk, a graduate of Severn School. Caulk is sophomore.

* * * Listed on the University of Delaware's roster of returning football players are Glen Burnie High School's Todd Hranicka, a senior defensive end, and Brian Bucci, a sophomore running back out of Old Mill High School. Delaware will play Navy in Annapolis on Nov. 15.

Terps face new pressures

COLLEGE PARK - At this time last year, the University of Maryland football program was facing the pressure that comes from being the top-ranked team in the nation

This year, the Terrapins are feeling a different kind of pressure

Gunning for an unprecedented fourth straight Atlantic Coast Conference championship, Head Coach Bobby Ross' team must overcome the spectre of an ongoing investigation into the school's athletic department, a starting quarterback who has never taken a snap from center in a college game and - perhaps worst of all the earliest season opener in Maryland history

"We're under the gun in a lot of ways," Ross said at a news conference Wednes day "This is the least amount of time I've ever had to prepare for a first game

'Run' reaches 11th year

By JOE GROSS Associate Sports Editor

It's been 11 years since John Astle beat four other people who decided to be wild and crazy and run 10 miles - from Severna Park High School to the Annapolis City Dock - just for the sake it.

A lot happened between then and now

Astle has come far. He represents Dis trict 30 in the Maryland House of Dele gates. But, Astle is still running in the 10 muler

"John was given an honorary lifetime entry because he has run every year and because of the help he's given to make the race so successful," Race Director Mike Van Beuren said

The run itself has been as successful as its first winner. It is now known as The Annapolis Run It's course has changed, now starting and finishing at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium The number of runners has also changed

Now the list of entries is closed some time in the spring when the list reaches 2,500 Without the limit there might be 5,000 or more runners flooding into Annapous for tomorrow's 11th edition of The Annapolis Run

The race is sponsored by the Annapolis Striders, the running club that grew out of the need for organization of the 10-mile run Six other major sponsors are also involved in the race

The bulk of this year's participants are from the Maryland-Virginia-Pennsylvania area, but there are some runners coming from various spots across the nation to take part in this event.

Last year's winner, Paul Malotte of New Castle, Pa, is not running this year Malotte's winning time of 50:50 was among the slowest winners in the past five years

The course record of 48 42 was established in 1982 by two-time winner Gary Siriano of Pittsburgh The women's record was set in the same race by Washington's Eleanore Simonsick, with a 35-12 clocking

Neither Siriano por Simonsick will run this year

But East German Kristin Otto, the world's fastest woman swimmer, added the 200-meter individual medley gold her earlier title.

Annapolis Run set

(Continued from Page 13) will start at 7:30 tomorrow morning from the stadium's east parking lot will be Jerry Clapper of the Washington Running Club.

Clapper, who recently moved to nearby Columbia entered at the prompting of one of his club's coaches, Dan Rincon, who won the Annapolis Run three times in the late 1970s.

'Clapper won the Constellation 10K race and I'd have to rate him as the favorite to win this race, too," Van Beuren said.

Clapper is one of five runners with times under 50 minutes for the 10mile distance. The others include Naval Academy graduate Bill Mc-Cormick, Sam Critchlow of Haverford, Pa., Jim Hage of Lanham and Dave White of Washington.

Last year's women's winner, Karin Wagner, timed at 58:10, is returning for tomorrow's race and is a favorite among the women

Other women to watch are perennial standout Marge Rosasco of Baltimore, who set her lifetime best for 10 miles on this course. Pat O'Brien of Annapolis and Martha Orem, also of Annapolis.

Also running in tomorrow's event is Fred Lebow. race director and driving force behind the New York City Marathon.

The runners will have a great deal of activity today including registration from 3 until 9 p.m., a slide show and fitness evaluations at St. John's McDowell Hall; fitness evaluations and at 6 p.m. a talk by Dr. Marshall Steele III of the Annapolis Sports Medicine Clinic.

New Potomac course a challenge for anyone

With a number of other golf writers in the area, I played golf at the new Avenel Tournament Players Golf Course earlier this week in Potomac. The course will be the site of the upcoming Chrysler Cup Tournament, which starts Sept. 2 and continues through Sept. 7th. A team from the American Seniors Tour, led by Arnold Palmer, will meet a squad of foreign golfers led by Gary Player. The layout of the course leaves little to be desired, but right now it's still in the construction phase and there's a great deal of work to be completed before it's in top shape. I'm looking forward to seeing how well the titans of golf in the world perform. It's a tough golf course and the lone consolation I got was making several pars and finding a number of balls in the rough - when looking for my own. Tickets for the tournament are on sale at Washington area Chrysler-Plymouth and Dodge dealers or can be obtained by calling 301/299-2111 or 365-2841. THE ST. MARY'S ATHLETIC AS-SOCIATION'S annual golf outing and bull roast will be at the Twin Shields Golf Course in Dunkirk. The popular scramble format will be utilized in the event. Funds from the tournament will benefit the St Mary's High School athletic program.
