Correction

In a Police Beat item in The Capital on Wednesday, county police gave an incorrect address for John-Henry-Sheppard,-who was charged with possession of cocaine and marijuana. His address is 417 Old Stage Road in Glen Burme.

and ordered Mr Brown and several other bystanders to the ground. One of the suspects when through his pockets and removed an undetermined amount of cash and keys. They stole Mr Brown's bicycle and fled on Warwickshire Lane toward Harris Heights Avenue. But High School students into traffic Mr Brown later recovered the blke.

OBITUARIES

two years ago has added two defendants to its $20 million court case. In a lawsuit filed Aug. 7, Joshua Hamlett and his parents, Donna and Dennis Hamlett, contend that Sandra Cunningham and Charles Kiessling, both of Glen Burnie, bear some of the blame for his injuries.

The action comes on the heels of a April 28, 1997, lawsuit that named Ezra Baty, William Volberding, Luis Martinez and Bradley Bohle, all of Glen-Burnie, and Severn resident Jason Kreiger as defend-

That case is slated to go to trial in January.

According to the new county Circuit Court lawsuit, Mr. Hamlett was leaving Glen Burnie High School in May 1996 and was hit by a truck on Ritchie Highway while trying to flee a group of students who were chasing him.

He was forced into oncoming traffic and was struck by a truck The latest lawsuit said that day's events unfolded after Mr. Hamlett was harassing Miss Cunningham, would be merged from leaving the school grounds, the lawsuit said.

Mr. Hamlett walked away and then ran, fearing he would be attacked, as the others chased himinto the road.

After being struck by the vehicle, Mr. Hamlett was in a coma-for almost three weeks

The lawsuit said he received medical attention at the University Hospital Shock-Trauma Center for "serious head injuries_multiple.pel vic fractures, multiple chest contusions and rib fractures."

Elliott Andalman, the Hamletts' attorney, said the new defendants were identified after he heard from the other defendants in pre-trial depositions, which are routinely taken in civil cases

Miss Cunningham and Mr. Kiessling were originally listed as witnesses in the case, Mr. Andalman said.

. He said he hoped the two lawsuits
